About innoFaith

innoFaith inspires people of faith to address the social challenges of our time through innovation and collaboration. The faith landscape is changing. The old measures of success are faltering, but new ways are emerging. We all thrive when faith communities lead in helping humanity and the planet thrive. innoFaith is for leaders who want to use the wisdom and assets of faith to create a better world and who sense the time has come for this different way.

About the Opportunity

As we seek to expand and diversify our multifaith platform for social innovation and impact, we want to expand our awareness of projects, initiatives, organizations and stories emerging out of a diverse set of faith communities and institutions. Our contributing editors are leaders who believe in the power of faith to address our world's most pressing challenges. They are involved in multi-faith and/or social innovation spaces and want to elevate interesting people, stories and initiatives. Specifically, they will:

- Identify people, organizations, resources, opportunities, and stories that are doing important work at the intersections of multi-faith and social innovation
- Source potential story leads for original content
- Review and edit content as needed
- Help strategize/develop new content ideas
- Have the opportunity to get paid for writing/developing original content

About you

The ideal candidate will have the following qualities:

- Passion for our vision and mission
- Deep appreciation for faith-rooted social change and interfaith engagement
- Curiosity about social problems and optimism about solutions
- Excellent communication skills, especially writing, and high attention to detail
- Creativity and innovative thinking
- High emotional intelligence and a strong collaborative spirit

innoFaith is multi- and inter-faith. We welcome people of all backgrounds, including those who are agnostic or non-religious themselves.

Location

Remote, any U.S.-based location

Stipend

Contributing editors will receive a $100 monthly stipend for the duration of their work.
